NORWAY TAKES GAME FROM GOULD

LOCALS LEAD 15-10 AT HALF—LONG SHOTS HELP NORWAY WIN BY 35-27 SCORE

Gould Academy lost a hard fought battle at Norway last Friday by the score of 35-27. The Blue and Gold played a fine defensive game, holding the sharp shooting Norway team to four baskets in the first half and leading 15-10. The winners were unable to penetrate the strong defense at any time during the first two periods.

However, when the third quarter began the Norway outfit began dropping shots from behind the center line, with such consistency that the Gould lead was overcome and Norway took the lead. In an effort to stop these long shots the defense was broken up with the result that Norway gained an eight point lead which they held thru-out the final minutes of play. Norway has lost only one game this year and that to Edward Little by 1 point on the Auburn floor.
Hall, left forward, was the leading scorer for the winners followed closely by Jackson, the center. Frost and Morse, Norway guards contributed four points apiece by each dropping two exceptionally long shots in the third period. These were the shots that took the heart out of the Gould team.

PASSENGER TRAINS CONTINUE AS USUAL

Last week's issue of the Citizen gave announcement of a proposed schedule of one train each way daily, the same as the regular Sunday service, to take effect last Sunday if it was approved by the public utilities commissions of Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont.
It was announced Friday that the change would not be made. It is reported that the approval of the New Hampshire Public Service Commission was not granted.

THE LATEST BULLETIN ON THE CHICKEN PIE SUPPER

To the Citizen:
Information has at last been released in regard to the entertainment to be given in connection with the Congregational Men's Chicken Pie Supper on Feb. 28th.
In addition to the unique exhibition of perfect types of feminine beauty and feminine dress, as interpreted through the eyes of Bethel bachelors—and you never could guess the name of the latest Bachelor to secure an entry blank for this contest—Seth Parker and his nationally known mixed quartette will arrive by air plane in time to furnish two numbers for the program.
A public reader, never before appearing before a Bethel audience, will interpret a variety of selections, wise and otherwise.
A trumpeter, whose clarion notes thrilled compatriots of George Washington, has been summoned from the shades. He will appear in the dress of his own day and generation. His trumpet solos will be no minor feature of the program.
To those who recall past events of like nature, nothing further need be said about the menu. Just look at the names of the men responsible for it and then smack your lips in anticipation. Here they are: Sam Black-peter, Bert Rowe, Al Van, Bill Garey, and can't you imagine the delectable odor of the coffee when Mert Farwell sets it brewing?
Tickets have been selling rapidly the past week. The men who volunteered to sell twenty-five came back for more. J. P. Butts can supply you while they last.

VAUDEVILLE

First ticket the Big Three Act Vaudeville is being presented at Odeon Hall tonight, Thursday, Feb. 23.
Act I—The Tartan Pygmies.
Act II—Musical Variety Program. Six new entertainers, namely: Emma Young, Robert Hastings, Harry Imman, Mr. Verrill, Angelo Onofrio, and Fredrick Briggs, have been added to this Act.

WHERE THE MONEY WENT

TOTALS OF SOME OF THE MORE IMPORTANT ACCOUNTS IN PAST TWO YEARS AND RECOMMENDATIONS FOR COMING YEAR

	1931	1932	Balance	Budget
			Overdraft	1933
State Tax	$10,553.19	$11,276.59

Town Officers' Bills	2,692.85	3,316.56	100.59	3,000.00
Memorial Day	75.00	75.00		37.50
Bethel Library	400.00	400.00		200.00
Interest	1,952.84	1,623.03		1,600.00

The above figures, gathered from the town reports of 1932 and 1933 will serve to give Bethel voters an idea of the standing of the town which, compared with many municipalities, is very encouraging.

In the case of schools, State funds amounting to $3,895.16 were added to the amount assessed for the Common School account and $700 to the High School Tuition account, and included in the 1932 figures above. In 1931 the State's amounts were $3,870.11 and $700 respectively. With these exceptions the above figures are intended to represent amounts raised by local taxation.

The overdraft in the Roads and Bridges account was the result of $122.30 of this account being transferred to match a like amount from the State on "50-50" road work. The State patrol work now includes the new State road from Vernon Street to Greenwood town line and this accounts for the overdraft of $9.30. An unexpected conveyance expense brought the Common School account higher than expected, otherwise the school expenditures would have been within bounds.

In the Winter Roads account the total includes overhauling the tractor, which so far has been used in but one storm and is in line condition, and the purchase of a plow which is in use on the town truck and giving entire satisfaction.

The report shows to the last cent who received the town's money, but the Roads and Bridges account does not furnish much information about what the money was spent for and where. As a matter of record in future years it would be better to have two or three pages of explanatory text and less perhaps of comparatively meaningless figures.

The Budget Committee made no recommendation for tarvin on Main and Church Streets, neither is there an article in the warrant for that purpose, as there is a balance from last year sufficient to keep these streets in condition another year.

On Thursday morning commenced the hearing of the damage suit of Frances H. Poland vs. Anne Dunbar. This is one of three cases against Mrs. Dunbar which have been previously tried. The other plaintiffs are Miss Helen Collins and Miss Constance Poland. The cases are the result of an automobile accident which occurred at the junction of the Skowhegan-Bangor and Pittsfield-Hartford roads on Oct. 22, 1929, the plaintiffs being passengers in Mrs. Dunbar's car. All three were injured. Mrs. Poland being in a Bangor hospital several weeks. The cases were tried at the May, 1931, term of court, the verdict being for the plaintiff in the sum of $3,000. An appeal was taken and the case was tried in the law court in February, 1932, the plaintiff winning a verdict of $5,250. This verdict was appealed and a trial was granted on the issue of damages, there being no question of liability, but the extent of Mrs. Poland's injury. After being out several hours the jury returned a verdict of $4,900 for the plaintiff.

The second case was another automobile collision case, or four cases against Dr. Alexander E. Zippole of Brooklyn, N. Y. The plaintiffs were Mrs. Lottie Abbott, South Paris, bringing suit for $2,000 for injuries; James H. Abbott, Wellesley, Mass., $500 for injuries; $2,000 expenses and loss of services of his wife, and $1,000 damage to car, and Mrs. Christine Abbott. Continued on Page Three.

GASOLINE BLAZE EXTINGUISHED
The speedy arrival of George Hallow, chief engineer of the Bethel Fire Department, saved the Robertson Service Station from a dangerous fire last Thursday evening when a fire started at one of the pumps the tank of a car was being filled while the engine was running. The contents of one Foamite extinguisher put out the blaze and the damage was mostly confined to the double pump which was in use at the time.

MARCH BY CHAPMAN PLEASES MEMBERS OF PRESIDENTIAL PARTY
The annual Lincoln Pageant given in the Grand Ball Room of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, Monday evening when President and Mrs. Howard Chapman and other dignitaries from Washington were present.
Lawrence Tibbett of the Metropolitan Opera Company and Dr. William Chapman furnished the music. Tibbett sang "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." W. A. Goldsworthy played Dr. Chapman's "Waldorf Astoria March" on the great organ. Members of the Presidential party were enthusiastic over the composition and the manner in which it was rendered by Mr. Goldsworthy.

A bronze plaque was presented to Louise Nash, Camden, who was one of the Maine delegates to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. The plaque now hangs in the office of L. H. Shibles, State Club Leader.

According to a report of the U. S. Employment Service of the Department of Labor, industrial activities in Maine showed little improvement in January, with the exception of an increased activity in shoe, cotton textile and woolen industries.

LEGION MINSTRELS A COMPLETE SUCCESS

Bethel folks showed their appreciation of a good home talent show last Friday evening when they packed the hall to witness the American Legion's presentation of a minstrel show, with a one act farce and all the extras. As we predicted from our observations for some days previous to the performance, an entertainment worthy of the time and money of everyone in the community.

While the entire production, as outlined in previous issues of the Citizen was due from first to last, certain features evidently pleased the public to an unusual degree. Among the more popular numbers were the selections by the Bluebird Orchestra and the band trio; the vocal solos by Mrs. Mona Wentzel and James Walker; the clog dancing of Adney Gurney and John King; the star performance of Charles Freeman in "Henry's Mail Order Wife"; the jokes of Winfield Howe and Harold Lurvey in the minstrel; and the song of Earle Elledge.

The entire work of planning the production and assembling the large cast was in charge of Winfield Howe and his success is deserving of the highest praise. Mrs. Erma Young's devotion to the chorus, specialties, and minstrel was a large factor in their superb presentation and the talent of Donald Kellogg as shown in the farce, "Henry's Mail Order Wife," merits special commendation.

TWO-MINUTE SERMON

BY REV. GEORGE H. HILL

NOT AN EXCEPTIONAL CASE

Old Elder Dubb said the preacher passed him three times in the post office lobby recently and didn't speak to him. He was some peeved too.

Now if Dubb saw the preacher pass him three times in the post office lobby and if Dubb did not speak to the preacher, what's the matter with Dubb? Some people are so thin-skinned that they are continually in trouble, and most of the slights and insults and injuries that are heaped upon them are purely imaginary. The fact is, as everyone knows, the preacher would speak to a yellow mongrel pup, human or otherwise, if he would give him the corner of his eye. Again, Dubb is six-foot-two without any socks, while the preacher man is fifty over five foot when well shod, and he is such a meek little cuss that he seldom raises his eyes above the second button on Dubb's vest. Besides all this Dubb recently bought a pint of molasses and cleaned the tobacco pipe off his vest, so the preacher could hardly have recognized him anyway.

LEGION'S STAND ON AID FOR DISABLED VETERANS

"If federal aid is denied disabled World War veterans, local communities will have to take care of them through local taxes, or by charity," declared the Adjutant of Rumford Post, American Legion, in an address made at the meeting of the Oxford County Council at South Paris.

In addition to this burden, the merchant and others of the entire community will be deprived of the money now coming into it as aid to these veterans," he said.

The speaker asserted that representatives of interests that now pay large federal income taxes are asking Congress in the name of economy to transfer a large portion of the veterans' cost from large taxpayers to the distressed local taxpayers. He named the National Economy League and the Chamber of Commerce of the United States as instigators.

"Their yardstick is money," he said. "They have presented no arguments to show that federal expenditures under existing law are wrong or improper. They have ignored the fact that disabled and helpless men must receive help and care. They never point out that men do not pay federal income taxes unless they have incomes to justify them."

"The organized groups simply have presented a series of conclusions not sustained by medical or other scientific evidence. Instead they introduced their attorneys."

"For 13 years the American Legion has cooperated with Congress in the problems of the veterans. Legion cooperation has always kept in mind the welfare of the nation as well as the welfare of the veteran."

"The Legion has brought these problems to Congress each year. Our hundreds of expert witnesses have testified altogether for months before committees. They have given their first hand experience, and have included experts in social work, claims handling, and diseases."

"The Legion has never merely said these are the conclusions of a million witnesses, but for each conclusion has brought forward able and informed witnesses, giving underlying reasons, the necessity, the justice for the conclusion reached by the veterans in their deliberations. Such testimony has been commented upon at length by the government's own experts and then all of this evidence has been reviewed with great care by congressional committees before their own conclusions were finally reached."

"Anyone who dares challenge this devotion of our legislators to Congress, by that fact alone exhibits a lack of knowledge."

"The lives of many thousands of veterans have been saved by the provisions of the World War Veterans' Act. The organized groups now seek to overturn the basic theories of veterans relief and veteran's care. Summed up they declare all previous Congresses back to the Revolutionary war have been wrong. They want to remove the veteran from the position of honor he has held in American life and history since Colonial days and place him in exactly the same position before the national government as the citizen who is subject to military service in time of greatest peril, but who stayed out of the hardships and dangers to take advantage of financial opportunities."

Rare Types of Mammals

In Smithsonian Exhibit

Many kinds of mammals as yet unknown to science may be hiding away in obscure corners of the earth. They lurk in the spots unvisited by man—dense jungles, high mountains, isolated islands, or in burrows under the ground. Only when they come into the collections do they attract the attention of systematic biologists. Several new types of mammals have been placed in the collections of the Smithsonian Institution. In most cases they are close relatives of known animals, yet differing sufficiently to merit independent classification. One of the most striking new discoveries is a black ape described by Gerrit S. Miller, Jr., Smithsonian curator of mammals. It was discovered in a collection from the island of Celebes. While it belongs to the baboon family it is a smaller relative of the big Celebes ape that we commonly see in the zoo. Another new creature is a hitherto unknown type of vole, a tiny ratlike rodent, which lives mostly in burrows above the timber line high up in the Endicott mountains of Alaska. Still others are two new members of the cat family—long-tailed tiger cats, closely related to the Central American ocelot, from Mexico, a new fox from Trinidad valley, lower California, and an unknown variety of the Peromyscus from the Coronado Islands.

Slavery in the North

Very early after the coming into effect of the Constitution the effort to abolish slavery in the northern states took active form. Previous to this Vermont, in 1777, was the first colony to abolish slavery by statute. Massachusetts in 1780, New York in 1827, New Jersey in 1816 and Connecticut in 1857 passed legislation. While slavery was not abolished entirely in many of the northern states until the emancipation proclamation, it had become obsolete and there were stringent regulations against any importation or sale of slaves in various states.

GOINGS ON IN MAINE

By Leon G. Cates

The Legislature is hitting on all six now. From ten to a dozen committee hearings are held every day; and there are many important matters now receiving serious consideration—among them is the question of appropriation for Roads and Bridges; Prohibition; Sales Tax; Connecticut Tax Plan, etc. As far as the Roads and Bridges are concerned, there have been three bills introduced in this Legislature which have received earnest consideration. They are the Kitchen bill, the Friend bill, and the Seavey bill. Now comes this week, still another bill, which is the outgrowth of the first three. It calls for the abolishment of direct taxation for highways, which suits Governor Brann's ideas; suits the motor people; and is satisfactory to the Grange. This bill allows for some direct appropriations for special road resolves, which so many of the Legislators are insisting upon. It also is in accord with the recommendation of the Budget in requiring the Highway Department to live within its own income for the next two years.

The gross income of the Highway Department from licenses, registrations, and gasoline tax, etc., is about $6,955,000. A bill to tax billboards came in for its share of attention this week. This bill is said to be sponsored by Woman's Clubs and Roadside Beautification groups. It calls for a tax of 1 1/2 per square foot. Rufus S. Sprague, representing the farmers, appeared against the measure, saying that it would take from the farmer the little money he now gets from rentals, about "one of the greatest handicaps to the tourist business is this deplorable condition which is growing along our highways." Mr. Sprague replied, "as for the billboards annoying tourists—when they go through Maine on their way to Canada, they are going so fast they don't take time to look at them, and when they are coming back, they can't see them anyway."

On an order presented in the House by Representative Ashby of Portland, Frank W. Carlton, a member of the Governor's Council, from Bath, was allowed the use of the Hall of the House to deliver his discussion of the Budget. He personally paid, to the limit of $100.00, the cost of telephone calls for Representatives who wished to call their home town Selection or Road Commissioners who might be interested in attending the meeting. Carlton is making a strong bid to have the Legislature raise more money than is called for in the Budget—this would necessitate the raising of the State Tax to 10 or 11 mills. It is now 7 1/2 mills—and if the Legislature does not raise any more money than is called for in Governor Brann's budget message, it will remain at that figure. Carlton's meeting was interesting, and at times rather hot; but it is doubtful if it will aid, in the least, Carlton's attempt to get some direct appropriation for highways; in opposition to the Budget.

Clifford E. McGlaulin of Portland appeared before the Judiciary committee in favor of Representative Young's bill to liberalize the divorce laws of Maine. This bill would provide that any divorce decree granted in another State, shall have the same force and effect as if it had been granted according to the laws of Maine. Edward F. Merrill, President of the Maine Bar Association, opposed the measure. He said it was a thing of grave danger, and "would open the doors of our courts to deceit." As was expected, the House reversed its action on Representative Fernald's bill, to change the time of Maine's biennial election from September to November. A week ago, the House voted in favor of the bill, and the change of months, but the Senate didn't concur, so the House reversed its action—and for the next two years, we will vote in September, as usual.

The bill to set up a board of censors for moving pictures has been indefinitely postponed. The bill to require that not less than 10% of the voters of a town, on a petition, to call a special Town Meeting, was reported by the Committee as "ought not to pass." The bill, which if passed, would provide a $1,000 fine or 11 months imprisonment for circulating false reports concerning insurance companies, was reported "ought to pass." And so was the bill which will permit small town polls to close at 5 o'clock in the regular elections. The Committee of Temperance unanimously reported "ought not to pass" on the bill to provide for the sale of beer. A majority of that same committee reported "ought not to pass" on the bill to allow for resubmission of the liquor law. On this bill Senators Farnsworth of Arundel and Blount of Cumberland joined with Representatives Thompson of Bridgewater, Stever of Bangor, Bucknam of Portland, Littlefield of Afton and Leathers of Harman of the Committee on Prohibition, voted against resubmission. On the other GOINGS ON TWO... trip a 'tupou' hand there will be a minority report, as "ought to pass," supported by Senator McDonald of Washington and the lady Representative from Fairfield, Bessie M. Carter. Representative Hobbs of Hope was absent when the vote was taken, but it is generally understood that he would have signed the minority report. The chances of this Legislature passing a measure to legalize any kind of a liquor bill; or even resubmission of such a law to the people, is slim—very slim. The Democrats want to resubmit Maine's Prohibition Law to the vote of the people. But to do that, it requires a two thirds vote of both the House and the Senate—and the way things are lined up here now, that consent won't be given by this Legislature.

During the past two weeks the fight for economy and reduced appropriations has gained ground. During the first few days of the session, economy was the watchword—but it soon lost ground; this was due very largely, I think, to the fight for road money; every big gun was fired to keep the highway appropriations up. But the leaders for the fight for big highway appropriations have found that they must compromise. Governor Brann let it become known that he meant what he said in his Budget message, and that he really wouldn't stand for any unnecessary appropriations for highways this session—and he had support enough in both branches to back him up, in spite of the heavy artillery that aimed destruction at the Budget.

College Degree Worth

$100,000, Experts Find

Statisticians and research investigators have at last run down the elusive and much discussed dollar and cents value of a college education and have fixed it at $100,000. Their survey reveals that the average untrained boy goes to work at the age of 14, earns less than $1,700 a year, so that his income from 14 to 60 totals $64,000. The high school graduate, they find, starts work at 18, reaches his maximum income of $2,800 at 50 and by 60 has earned a total of $83,000. The college graduate, they learned, starts his career at about 22, has caught up with the high school graduate by 30 and at 60 is earning a total of $100,000. Figures from the same survey prepared by the statistical department of Union Central Life Insurance Company show that out of 1,000 children entering grade school only 25 graduate from college. Lack of funds is revealed as the main reason for leaving school and educational insurance is now advocated as a means of giving a higher percentage the "break" which a college degree assures.

Culling baby chicks should begin when they are removed from the incubator trays—those that are listless, do not seem able to run about and have no apparent appetite should be discarded.

Present economic conditions make necessary the effort to keep down household expenditures and a flock of chicks in the back yard will not only help keep down the outlay for food, but will add a great deal to the pleasure of living.

THE FINGER POINTS

In and Around Bethel

Gordon E. Lathrop

There is No Justice!

Ever since early last summer when our local trial justice resigned as a result of giving his private opinion in a public place, (a Bowdoin professor by the way, expressed a somewhat similar opinion, according to Monday's "Sun"). Bethel has been without a means of settling her own neighborhood violations and disputes. With people passing "Stop" signs, parking the wrong way on Main street, drinking at the local dances, and driving without licenses (?) it seems as though Bethel could support a court of its own. Why hasn't some action been gotten by our local legislators? It costs the county money to have our law violators taken to Rumford for Norway for trials unless a conviction is secured. And convictions don't always follow an arrest. There must be some man in town (would he have to be a Democrat these days?) who could fill the important office of trial justice to the satisfaction of all factions. Must we continue to tell our visiting lawbreakers to Bethel that "There is no Justice?"

Just Considering

"The Finger Points" is seriously considering running for selectman at town meeting day on the strength of the publicity he got at the Minster Show. Have you thought how you are going to vote?

Town Reports Are Out!

The yearly reports, with their mass of facts and figures on town affairs are now ready for distribution. Our publication that comes out regular and to which you pay no subscription price (directly). The town clerk has silenced a lot of luscious gossip the year by leaving off the ages of the newly-married. The hen-convent will have to guess whether either he or she or both of them were old enough to know better.

Daylight Saving

An article added to the Warren after the reports were printed is designed to give Bethelites a chance to express their opinion of Daylight Saving. Outside of making the middle last an hour or two longer, we can hardly see its objective. No one can move the sun back and forth in spite of all the tinkering with alarm clocks.

Town Dump

There is nothing in the Warren about a town dump. Some one will get up on town meeting day, to let us understand if there's a hole in the bank of the river at Riverside Cemetery that needs filling. So the spot is furnished as a prospect for dump. At least once a week any dump should be raked over and the paper that might blow around should be burnt. An appropriation of $100 should cover the labor. A cheap investment toward beautifying Bethel roadsides by killing the highest dumps.

It Might Happen Anywhere

(But it wouldn't get in the newspaper. "The Finger Points" driving the gas down on the floor (18 miles per hour)....Guy Vall driving like a cow....It was after dark....The cow had no tail light....A girl turned....A cuss word....No be harsh...."The Finger Points" missed by a hair! Moral—drive your cows on the left hand side of the road and carry a lantern after dark.

In the Norway Municipality

While returning from a Saturday Miss Dorothea Brower escaped a serious car accident as she left the road bet Paris and West Paris. The badly damaged, but she escaped slight injuries and is recovering.

In the Norway Municipality week Harold Eames of Bowdoin College to larceny of money of moccasins at Naimy's case was continued for a respondent placed off for one year, to report to Deputy Sheriff Cummings.

On March 9, Dr. Twadd by Miss Woodward will give old treatment, a prevention for diphtheria, at a building, and on March 10 a war building. The cost of treatment will be 25 cents but ment will be given to any pay due to unemployment. In the rural schools will be a later date.

GOULD DEFEATS MEXICO

YAIL AND BROWNE ST GAME AT MEXICO LA

The Gould Academy led the Mexico High School game on the Mexico day evening which was throughout the first half.

Could led 19-0 at the first quarter and 30-0 at the third period. Mexico rallied which netted 12 points but could not make the game any eight points at Vall and Brown stars with Dawson and Muir work for the losing team.
